

Islamic University Gaza
Faculty of Engineering

مركز إحياء التراث العمراني
Center for Architectural Heritage Conservation

Established in 2000 as a small unit in the faculty of engineering, IWAN faced numerous challenges and constraints. With the hard work of its staff; the continuous support of the university administration and national and international sponsors, IWAN is now the largest and best qualified center for heritage conservation in Gaza..

Vision.

To rebuild the true, pure and dignified image of the Palestinian architecture in Gaza.

Mission.

Conserve, preserve and rehabilitate architectural heritage in Gaza and increase the awareness of its importance. Conduct research, studies and training programs on architectural heritage. Communicate with national and international institutions working in the field. Produce art works which promote traditional values of Palestinian architectural heritage..

Fields of Work .

- Architectural heritage conservation, preservation, rehabilitation and management projects.
- Education and training programs.
- Architectural heritage awareness campaigns.
- National and international cooperation and partnership agreements.
